

CT & MRI Mobile Unit Hire

Burgess Diagnostics can provide mobile CT or MRI scanning units for both short and long-term hire to meet your requirements. Our aim is to provide you with the highest level of imaging equipment and support so you can deliver the best patient care.

When your on-site scanner has broken down, requires repairs or maintenance, or is due to be upgraded, rest assured we can provide a mobile unit at short notice (subject to availability) so that your clinical services are not interrupted.

"During the upgrading of our own MRI scanner Burgess Diagnostics supplied us with a mobile MRI unit. Their teams help with ensuring our site could accommodate the unit and advice on power requirements was invaluable. As well as the onsite training and system familiarisation for our staff."

Eastcott Veterinary Hospital

Why should you hire a mobile scanning unit from Burgess Diagnostics?

Flexibility: Our mobile hire units are available for as long as you need them, whether that be a couple of weeks or several months.

Technical & Clinical Support: Units are supplied with Scanner Set-Up and Operator Guides and our Clinical Services team are always available via phone or email to assist your team if required.

High Specification: Every scanning unit is fully equipped with all the features of an on-site scanner so you can provide the same level of patient care.

Staffed/Unstaffed Solutions: Units can be provided on a staffed or unstaffed basis (subject to availability).

Spacious Mobile Units: The units will comfortably accommodate the imaging team, veterinary staff, and patient.

"We reached out to Burgess Diagnostics when our on-site CT scanner was out of action. They were quick to assist so we could maintain the continuity of care for our patients. From the initial phone call, to the paperwork and support with running the CT, their staff were extremely professional and genuinely happy to help. Overall, 12 out of 10, a brilliant service!"
